"SOL" MADE A BLAZE

The Sun Held Responsible For the F. C. Granger Fire.

MYSTERIOUS FIRST WARD FLAMES.

They Break Out in Strange Places, and Are Finally Traced to Defective Window Glass--East Side Engine House Also Visited.

How did the fire in the Granger residence, 155 Terrace street, on Saturday afternoon, originate? This is a question, in substance, asked by many persons, especially by insurance men.

The fire originated in a small bedroom on the second floor, and on the back or west end of the building. There was a window opening out on to a one story kitchen. The fire was in the bedding on the bed, the window being left partly raised during the day to air the room. Smoke issuing from this open window in dense volume was seen by a neighboring lady who gave the alarm.

"How did the bedding take fire?" inquired one of the fire department officers of the lady of the house. "I do not know, sir," she replied. "No person has been in the room for some time. There has been no fire in the room, and I cannot account for it."

The Cause a Mystery.

Thus the chief engineer was compelled to put down the cause in his Fire Record "unknown."

Yet there was a legitimate cause for this fire which is fully understood. There would throw much valuable light and information not only on this but on many others that have occurred here in Janesville, the origin of which have been a mystery.

Some maintain the fire was the result of spontaneous combustion; others that it was the result of carelessness on the part of some member of the household who had access to the bed-room; that some one carelessly threw down a lighted match on the bed; that mice had carried matches there and ignited them, setting the fire. It is altogether too easy to attribute the fire to such causes.

"Spontaneous Combustion" Not To Blame. The "spontaneous combustion" theory cannot be proven in this instance as easily and clearly as another theory, that in all probability shows the true origin of the fire. There was nothing in or around the room to produce what many people call "spontaneous combustion"; no oily woolen or cotton rags or waste, from which such fires will sometimes spring.

A number of incipient fires have occurred here in Janesville, and no doubt in many other cities, in the very manner as that at the Granger home. Some of them have been discovered and extinguished with only nominal damage. In some cases the fires started had destroyed the building and perhaps the adjoining property, and the origin has been put down as "unknown," "incendiaryism" or perhaps "carelessness."

Old Sol Was to Blame.

"Do you know how that fire originated?" asked B. F. Dunwiddie of the reporter as they were leaving the premises Saturday afternoon.

"I think I can tell you. The same kind of a fire has been started in my house twice. There is an imperfect glass in the window. The sun striking this glass, or the two panes as the window was raised formed a lens, the result being that the bedding took fire. It bothered me for some time, but I caught it the second time and had the defective glass taken out, and have not been bothered since. If the fire department officers investigating the matter carefully will find this to be the true origin of the fire."

Blaze in an Engine House.

Some years ago several firemen were sitting in the assembly room of the No. 2 engine house. It was on a Sunday afternoon, about three o'clock. The west windows of the room had heavy damask curtains and were not drawn. No one had approached nearer than ten feet to the windows. Presently a ring of fire was noticed, about six or eight inches in diameter, near the center of the curtains. There were no folks or gatherings in the curtains so that the fire evidently started in a very small spot, and slowly burned in a circle, spreading out as the fire burned.

The little group were astonished, and could not account for it.

"Burning Glass" in the Window.

One member of the group then expressed the opinion that it was the result of an imperfect glass; that the sun had shone through the glass, being brought to a focus on the curtain, producing fire, the same as though a sun-glass were used.

The party gave no credit to this theory, but laughed at it. Why had it not set fire the curtain before?

Because it had not such favorable opportunity. Experiments were immediately made. A hat was held up in front of where the curtain took fire, and the rays were focused almost closely enough to produce fire, strong enough certainly to burn one's hand.

LIQUOR CAUSED IT.

Four inmates of a Pennsylvania House Lose Their Lives in the Flames.

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 1.—One of the most terrible accidents occurred at Taylorstown Saturday that have happened in this county for years. In the morning at 1 o'clock the house of Henry Phillips caught fire and before the inmates could be gotten out they were all burned to death. The victims were George Hertner, Henry Phillips, Mrs. Henry Phillips and Clinton Clide. The family and those boarding in the house had been drinking until a late hour and retired to their beds. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the victims came to their death by the burning of the Phillips house, which was caused by the excessive use of intoxicating liquors by the inmates.

TO BE CREMATED.

Incineration Decided Upon on Account of an Attempt to Rob Barsum's Grave. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 1.—The Barsum family has decided to cremate the remains of the great showman and thus put an end to the attempts to steal the body.

STABBED BY A BULL HEAD.

A Rockford Man Hurt in a Strange Manner.

ROCKFORD, June 1.—John Crowley, a cigar-maker, is in danger of blood poisoning from a wound inflicted by a bull-head. Crowley came into the physician's office with the fish in his right hand. He had to carry the fish as one of the fins was firmly wedged into the middle joint of his middle finger of his right hand. The doctor had to cut the finger open to extricate the sharp fin which was covered with barbs.

GROUND HER FOOT OFF.

A Six-Year-Old Rockford Girl Meets With a Terrible Accident.

ROCKFORD, ILL., June 1.—Myrtle Williamson, a six-year-old girl, was knocked down by an electric car on West State street, thrown under the wheels, and before she could be extricated had her right foot so terribly mangled that doctors found it necessary to amputate it. She was endeavoring to get out of the way of a wagon and did not see the car.

ELKHORN, June 1.—Austin Mercenes, an old soldier, who has just been confined in the Walworth county insane asylum, received arrears of pension money recently to the amount of $12,000.

AN AWFUL BLAST.

Frightful Accident in a Tunnel on Kelson Mountain, Col.

GREENCASTLE, Col., June 1.—A terrible accident is reported at the east end of the Atlantic-Pacific tunnel on Kelson mountain, about 8 miles from Silver Plume, by which four men lost their lives. The names of the dead men are Harry Taylor, William Goughlin, J. Richardson and John Mullholand.

They were employed at the breast of the tunnel in loading poles. The tunnel is very long and is worked by power drills, so they carried with them about seventy-five pounds of dynamite or giant powder to complete the loading. From the breast of the tunnel is a drift on one of the lodes, in which Moritz Farison was working. It was customary for the men in the shaft to come back and warn Farison of a coming blast, but a sudden and unusual explosion threw him off his feet, stunning him badly. After he recovered he started to the mouth of the tunnel, wondering why the blast had not notified him as usual. On getting to the engine-room he told the engineer that the men had set off the blast without telling him, and that he was hurt, and wanted to know why they were so careless, asking where they were. The engineer said they had not come out. A search party was organized and found all four men named had been literally blown to fragments by a premature explosion of nearly 100 pounds of dynamite. The accident was about 3,500 feet from the mouth of the tunnel. The force of the explosion tore a great hole in the wall of the tunnel and a great quantity of rock blocked the way of the rescuing party for a time. A majority of the stock of the Atlantic-Pacific tunnel is owned by "Brick" Pomeroy.

DEATH OF DR. BARKER.

Sudden Demise of the Eminent New York Physician--Biographical Sketch.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Dr. Fordyce Barker, one of the most eminent physicians in the United States, died here Saturday afternoon, aged 73 years. Apoplexy was the cause. He was unconscious for a number of hours before death. Two days before his death Dr. Barker was out attending patients and during his short illness many people who were under his care came to his office. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at St. Thomas' Episcopal church, of which Dr. Barker had been a member forty years. (Dr. Barker was consulting physician to Bellevue hospital, the nursery and child's hospital, St. Elizabeth's hospital, the cancer hospital, and surgeon to the woman's hospital. He was a member of many medical associations, notably the New York Academy of Medicine, of which he was president from 1884 to 1886. He was also honorary fellow of the Royal Medical society of Athens, and a member of the Obstetrical societies of Edinburgh, London, Philadelphia and Louisville, and of the Philadelphia College of Physicians. He contributed to medical literature many lectures and papers, and was the author of a work on puerperal diseases, which was published in 1874 and was translated into Italian, French, German and Spanish. He was also the author of a treatise on senility. He was one of Gen. Grant's physicians, and he attended both William B. Astor and his son, the late John Jacob Astor.)

A HORRIBLE CONFESSION.

A Man in Sacramento Acknowledges Murdering Two Wives.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1.—John Zwald, a man about 35 years old, has confessed that he had murdered two wives eleven years ago. He said he lived in Ohio with his wife Catharine and four children. His wife began to drink, and he took two of the children and fled to Anoka, Minn. His wife followed him, and he put arsenic in her whiskey. Three years later he moved to Wayne, Neb., and married another woman, whom he smothered with bed clothes. Sheriff Stanley took Zwald in custody at the latter's own request until the case could be investigated.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

A Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Man Kills His Wife and Then Blows His Own Brains Out. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., June 1.—At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon a jeweler shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide by firing a bullet through his own head. The couple had not been living together for some time, their domestic relations not being happy. It is supposed the act was committed during a fit of temporary insanity. Five small children are left orphans.

A Brakeman's Bad Mistake.

MUNCIE, Ind., June 1.—Sunday morning at Goldsmith, a small station west of Muncie, a Lake Erie & Western freight brakeman caused a terrible explosion and nearly lost his life by foolishly removing the top of an oil tank car and placing his lantern in to see if it was empty. The gas at once ignited, burning the man's eyes out and badly damaging the car. The brakeman was blown from the train into a wheat field 50 feet distant.

Damages from Outcrops.

MASON CITY, Ia., June 1.—A great deal of damage is being done by cutworms in this locality. Several farmers have been compelled to plant their corn over for the third time.

Andre Mitte, a 12-year-old Ft. Howard boy, is insane and has been taken to the Oakkosh asylum.

DOE SAYS ITS LEGAL

The City Attorney Satisfied as to the Charter Amendment.

CLERICAL ERRORS ARE NOT FATAL.

The Decision Will be Given to the Common Council This Evening, and Will Serve to Guide the Assessors in Fixing the Ward Taxes.

City Attorney Doe will report to the council this evening as to the legality of the charter amendments. It is understood he bases his claims for the validity of the amendments upon three points: That the journals of both houses of the legislature show that the amendments were passed; that the bill was enrolled, presented to the governor and approved and published. Clerical Errors do Not Count. That the omission of the gas fund section was an error committed by clerks in the enrolling room, and therefore the section can yet be inserted, presented to the governor and if approved, be published and become a law.

That there is no authority for going behind the enrolled bill. This shows on its face that it was approved by the governor, and is taken as evidence also of the intention of the house. CURRENT EVENTS. Secretary Blaine is considered certainly recovered. Walter P. Dempsey, of Englewood, Ill., has been arrested for embezzling $5,000. A fire in the Chicago bicycle works caused a loss of $50,000; two men being seriously burned. John Hines, mate of the schooner Anne Sherwood, was killed at Washburn, Wis., by a spar striking him. Frederick Meyer, a well-known farmer, was killed in a runaway accident near Burlington, Ia., Saturday. Joseph Hang, a farmer living near Saginaw, Mich., was killed Sunday by the discharge of a shotgun he was loading.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS BOAT.

Freddie Mulford, a Well-Known Writer, Expires of Heart Disease.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Freddie Mulford—editor, correspondent and yachtsman—is dead. Saturday a party of yachtsmen in Sheephead bay saw a small sailboat riding at anchor. As their yacht swept by they saw lying motionless upon the bottom of the boat a stoutly built man of about 50. They hailed him, but received no response. They saw painted upon the stern of the boat the name White Cross. An examination showed that the occupant of the boat was Freddie Mulford and that he was dead. Death undoubtedly resulted from heart disease. He was best known as an author by his "Swamp Angel" and "Freddie Mulford's Story."

Rightfully Buried.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 1.—While inspecting whiskey in the bonded warehouses of the distillery here Saturday a leaking barrel was found, and one of the four men employed setting his lantern too near the barrel, the escaping spirits caught fire. The men worked hard to extinguish the flames, but without success, and were finally driven from the building and sent in an alarm. Charles Meeker's clothes caught fire and before the flames could be extinguished he was so badly burned that his life is despaired of. John Havens was frightened about the face and head and may die, and John Decker was so badly burned that the flesh on his legs peeled off in long strips.

In the Law's Hands.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Robert Rathborn, alias "The Gorilla," was arrested in Canton, O., Saturday and will be brought to Chicago to stand trial for the theft of $3,000 from F. C. Gehrke's West side bank in 1890. Rathborn was captured at the time and placed under $5,000 bonds but jumped his bail. He was arrested while picking pockets at a circus showing in Canton.

Broken Her Neck.

SAGINAW, Mich., June 1.—Mrs. B. B. Ross, wife of one of the leading and most widely-known physicians in Michigan, went to Rantoul, Kan., three weeks ago to visit friends. Sunday afternoon while preparing for the return journey she fell down stairs and dislocated her neck, death resulting almost instantly.

Hundreds Killed.

MARSHFIELD, June 1.—A steamer that has arrived here from the New Hebrides islands, in the south Pacific, brings advices to the effect that a state of anarchy prevails there. Numerous conflicts have occurred, in which 600 natives were killed. In each case the bodies of the dead were eaten by the victors.

Walked from a Train and Was Killed.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 1.—W. Eddington, of Prestonsburg, Ky., walked from a fast train here and was killed. Letters in his valise identified him as ex-treasurer of Floyd county and judge of the circuit court of Floyd, Johnson and Martin counties in Kentucky.

Spanish Reciprocity.

MADRID, June 1.—At a meeting of the cabinet, the queen regent presiding, Premier Canovas Del Castillo announced that the commercial convention with the United States had been concluded.

Death of an Electrician.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—David Brooks, the electrician and inventor of electrical appliances, died.

THE UNIVERSITY PROSPERS.

The Faculty of the State University at Madison, have issued the annual programme of commencement exercises for the current college year. Many well known men will take part. Luther Ladin Mills, who is to deliver the annual address before the law school, is one of the most prominent attorneys in Chicago, and his name is familiar to the people throughout the state, as well as elsewhere, by reason of the prominent part he took in the prosecution of the Cronin murderers. A brilliant address will doubtless be delivered by him. Dr. Gilman, who is to deliver the annual commencement address, is one of the most noted American educators, and the university authorities have been very fortunate in inducing him to come to Madison this spring.

The annual literary exercises before Alumni promise to be of more than usual interest. Howard L. Smith, who is to deliver the oration, was distinguished as an orator even during his college course, and won particular distinction by his speeches in the fall of 1880, during his senior year, supporting the Republican ticket for the presidency. He is now, and has been for some years, a prominent attorney at St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Buckstaff is a daughter of Mrs. Hattie Tyng Griswold, of Columbus, and, like her mother, is gifted with rare literary accomplishments.

The progress of the university during the last year has been quite phenomenal. The attendance in all departments has been 940 students, which, as compared with the attendance for any year preceding, is indeed astonishing. The reports already received by the university authorities from accredited schools and other sources throughout the state indicate a large increase over this number for the coming collegiate year.

The increase to the income of the institution by recent legislation will be something like $60,000 per year. By the terms of the act granting this increase, it is to be used, first, for the erection of new buildings necessary to the work of the institution; second, for improvements and repairs necessary to the preservation and extension of buildings already erected; and, third, for such other uses as the regents shall find it advisable to devote it. The regents have determined to erect at once three new buildings which have been urgently needed for a considerable time, viz.: A building for the law school at a cost not exceeding $60,000; an armory at a cost not exceeding $75,000; and a dairy house at a cost not exceeding $25,000.

CAN SEE WITH CLOSED EYES.

We are all in the dark as to his [Cobb's] movements, and we do not shut our eyes to the fact apparent that the solid republican farmers appear to be greatly pleased at his visit. —Recorder.

Very cleverly put. With such staunch, old and reliable democrats as Aaron Broughton, Congressman Babbitt, James Cleland, etc., acting as pilots for the tall Georgian surveyor as he meanders over Rock county's prairies endeavoring to enlighten Rock county farmers on questions of rural economy and economic government, it can be interpreted even with closed eyes. No, no, do not "shut your eyes, neighbor; you have nothing to fear so long as Mr. Cobb is in the hands of such able pilots.

Having discovered nothing at Isabella, the townsit of which was located by Christopher Columbus in 1492, worthy to be transferred to Chicago, it is proposed to construct an exact reproduction of the ship in which the great discoverer landed on this continent and set her afloat in the great Lake Michigan. The little vessel will probably feel a good deal out of place among other seagoing crafts by which she will be surrounded, but as an example by contrast, of the improvements in means of navigation in 400 years she will be a genuine source of interest and surprise.

"Good old reliable Milton" and her cheerful sister Lima, have gone off on a summer tour with Walworth county. —Recorder.

Just wait until the coming of the next general election. "Good old reliable Milton" and her cheerful sister Lima" will give you a better exemplification of home rule than you can get from the land league in a thousand years.

The Choctaw Indians are reported to have filled a picture peddler full of bullets. The story is somewhat fishy as told by a companion peddler, but, if true, it is evidence that even civilized Indians may be driven by desperation to summary measures. Some of the pictures that have been offered for sale in Janesville of late, would drive a stone hitching post into nervous prostration.

ASHLAND PRESS: There is little hope that Chief Crazy Horse Wall will deign to answer the plain question of the Wisconsin State Journal, regarding the fairness in a law which gives La Crosse county, with 38,000 population, one assemblyman, and Manitowoc county, with 37,000 population, three assemblymen.

Anna Dickinson will shortly bring a damage suit for $150,000 against the management of the asylum in which she was confined for alleged insanity. Anna is determined to keep herself before the public and promises in one way or another to continue to make the public weary.

The Oshkosh Northwestern thinks that perhaps Governor Peck's long delay in appointing a Democratic dairy and food commissioner may be attributed to the unpleasantness of the duty of appointing a man to a position which he urged the legislature to abolish.

Sixty-five new lieutenants will be turned out of the West Point army office factory this year, but the supply is short by thirty-five men. Civilians need not be enthusiastic over the vacancies, however, as non-commissioned officers will take all but two.

POINTS ABOUT BADGERITES.

The Bank of Prairie du Chien elected Gen. Lucius Fairfield president.

Ex-Senator Edward Scofield, of Oconto, is nominated for governor of Wisconsin by the Antigo Republican.

Northern fishermen claim that the law preventing fishing in the Brule river was passed in the interest of Col. John H. Knight and his friends, who desire to do all the fishing that is done in the Brule themselves.

Senator Vilas has purchased a cranberry marsh near Babcock.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

A University President.

Professor David Starr Jordan, of Bloomington, Ind., selected for president of the land Stanford, Jr., university in California, is a native of Gainesville, N. Y., and forty-one years old. In educational matters he may with truth be called a "hustler," especially in original investigations in natural history, and more especially in the study of fishes. Within a year after graduating from Cornell university he began to be quoted as an authority. In 1875 he was made professor of biology in Butler university, Indianapolis, and in 1879 was chosen president of the state university at Bloomington.

A WOMEN'S CONFERENCE.

Arrangements for a Big Meeting During the World's Fair—Numerous Demands.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 1.—The executive committee of the national council of women held a conference here Saturday for the purpose of making arrangements for an international meeting of representative women of the world at Chicago during the world's fair and to pay the expenses of the visiting delegates. It was also resolved to send communications to the Methodist church, asking that women be admitted to its national conference; to the annual meeting of the international Sunday-school workers, asking that women be put upon the committee to prepare Sunday-school lessons; to any religious body that already has or may appoint before 1893 a committee on revision, asking that women be placed upon that committee; to ask the international council of women to hold its next meeting at Chicago during the Columbian exposition, the national council of women to assume the entertainment of such delegates as may come.

Three committees were appointed; the first consisting of New England women who will appear before the National Reform Divorce league, Boston, to ask that women be appointed on that body; the second is composed of Washington women, who will urge in congress the passage of a bill, already introduced, giving equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex, to government employees; the third, composed of women known to be interested in the subject of reform dress, to prepare a symposium on dress to be published in some leading magazine during the coming year and to report to the annual May conference of 1893 its idea of a business dress for women, accompanied, if practicable, by a model of the same.

LABOR SOCIETIES AT OUTS.

The Switchmen's Union Strongly Denounces the Federation.

CHICAGO, June 1.—The Switchmen's Mutual Aid association has issued a manifesto to all labor unions and friends of organized labor. It recites the discharge by the Northwestern road of 400 switchmen; the alleged conspiracy entered into by the trainmen with the railroad company to down the switchmen; the action of the supreme council in justifying the action of the trainmen, and the secession of the switchmen from the Federated Order of Railway Employees. Then follows a bitter arraignment of the trainmen and their leaders. The appeal, which will reach every labor union in the country, concludes: "The men who lead labor organizations into the position occupied today by the Brotherhood of Trainmen have committed a crime against that organization and laboring men that a whole life of atonement will not atone."

BURLINGTON, Ia., June 1.—Frederick Meyer, a well-known farmer living near this city, was dragged and kicked to death in a runaway Saturday evening.

WAITING FOR DEATH.

Sir John Macdonald Almost Certain to Die.

HE IS CONSCIOUS BUT SPEECHLESS.

Forecasting the Effect of His Demise Upon Politics in Canada—A Crisis Threatened in Dominion Public Affairs.

KNOWS DEATH IS NEAR.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 1.—Sir John Macdonald's condition was practically unchanged, except that his vital powers seemed to be gradually weakening. His life now hangs on a slender thread. He is fighting with his characteristic tenacity against the dread visitor, but with vitality slowly ebbing away the unequal struggle cannot be much longer maintained. Since Friday afternoon, though deprived of the power of speech, he has maintained the cheerfulness for which he is so noted in health. Thence still conscious, he realizes that his doom is approaching, and seems prepared for the final call. With his last arm, which is still serviceable, he makes known his desires. He passed the night quiet and enjoyed periods of brief rest. Whenever Lady Macdonald enters the sick room, his face, which has assumed an ashen hue, lights up. Nothing can describe the attachment he entertains for the talented woman who for many years has been the wife of Canada's greatest statesman. The windows of the sick room, which look out from the second story on a well-kept lawn, are flung wide open. In the ante-room is a large table on which hundreds of cablegrams and dispatches from England, Canada and the United States are being momentarily deposited. Two secretaries busily engaged dictating replies to assistants. Queen Victoria, Lord Salisbury, Lord Lorne, Lord Lansdowne, viceroy of India and scores of distinguished people have sent cablegrams of inquiry coupled with regret at the premier's condition. At 1 a. m. no further news was received from Sir John's camp. He had taken nourishment, and was resting easily.

Touching references to the dying premier were made in all the churches, both Catholic and Protestant, Sunday morning. At St. Patrick's Rev. Father morning said: "At this moment a great figure in Canadian history, a statesman who for nearly fifty years has been intimately connected with public life in Canada, and who for nearly all that period had guided her destinies, is lying at the point of death. Even his bitterest political enemy would not deny him sympathy nor refuse to offer prayers for his recovery."

A crisis in political circles is imminent. The cabinet sat six hours Saturday, but, as if by arrangement, the lips of all the ministers are sealed as to what was done at the meeting. Sir Hector Langevin, as senior privy councillor, will, in the event of Sir John's demise, be summoned by the governor general to assume charge of public affairs. But in view of the fact that grave charges of malfeasance in office are at present hanging over the head of the minister of justice, but the indications are that a large wing of the conservative party will insist upon the selection of Sir Charles Tupper as the next premier, Sir John Thompson being a Roman Catholic. A caucus of the party will be held at an early date and parliament will be asked to-day to adjourn probably for three weeks.

Hon. David Mills, M. P., a prominent liberal and an authority on constitutional law, gave it as his opinion that in the event of Sir John's death the cabinet ministers would not have to resign and appeal to the people before selecting office under a new chief. He said the law was still in force that allows a minister to resume office within thirty days after his resignation without reelection.

JOHNTOWN'S MISFORTUNE.

The Pennsylvania City Observes the Second Anniversary of the Big Flood.

JOHNTOWN, Pa., June 1.—Sunday being the second anniversary of the Johnstown flood, the people of that city were left alone with their mourning, the several thousand visitors of Decoration day having departed. Hundreds spent the entire day in Grandview cemetery, beside the graves of their dead, which had been strewn with flowers. At 4 o'clock, the fatal hour when two years ago the wave swept away the city, Mayor Rose announced the moment and hundreds of the mourners engaged in silent prayer. A magnificent column of flowers sent by sympathetic strangers was placed in the center of the plat containing the 800 graves of unknown dead.

OUR "TRADE EDITION." No Efforts Spared to Make it a Complete City Prospectus.

That our efforts to give to Janesville a creditable trade paper, one that will reflect credit upon the city, is appreciated by our business and public-spirited citizens is clearly demonstrated by the liberal support that is being extended to us by our leading merchants and manufacturers.

That this edition will be of inestimable value to the city is unquestionable, and it should meet the support of all who have any interest in the future prosperity of Janesville.

Some people may say that strangers will find out the advantages we have to offer without putting it in cold type; yet the successful business man is aware that a city can no more afford to discontinue to send out carefully prepared literature than a successful merchant can discontinue advertising. Our proposed trade edition will be the largest and most handsomely illustrated paper ever sent out from this city, and it is our object to have every business represented.

Messrs. Bellone & Hugenatger who are associated with us in this enterprise being strangers may overlook some of our business men, and as the canvass will close in a few days, if any of our business men who have not been called upon desire to have their business represented if they will leave word at the Gazette office they will be visited by our canvassers.

TWO VICTORIES FOR BELLOIT.

Beloit Defeats Evanston in Base Ball and Madison in Tennis on Saturday.

The N. W. U. nine, from Evanston, suffered defeat at the hands of the Beloit College men Saturday, to the tune of 7 to 3.

The game was played on the new College Athletic Park, and was witnessed by about 1,500 people, several being from Janesville. Both nines put up a very strong game, and a close and exciting contest was the result. The Beloiters got the lead at the first and kept it all the way through, but the game was not really decided till the ninth inning when the home team scored three runs. The Evanston's played a magnificent fielding game but failed when they came up before Rosenthal's delivery, only getting two hits off the Beloit phenomenon.

The tennis tournament with Madison was played off in the morning and resulted in a complete victory for Beloit, the visitors not being able to get a set. Messrs. Perkins in singles and Mayhew and Burton in doubles appeared at the net to represent Madison, while Dudley and the Green brothers were exponents of Beloit.

JANESVILLE VETS IN CENTER.

A Detail From W. H. Sargent Post Spent Sunday Out of Town.

Yesterday morning a detail of fourteen men with Commander Heimstetter in charge, visited the town of Center for the purpose of decorating the graves of soldiers buried there. After the ceremonies the visitors were taken in charge by members of the church and were hospitably entertained. The G. A. R. men all went to Comrade P. Torpey's where a dinner was set for fourteen. They remained until 3 p. m. and left after giving individual votes of thanks to Mrs. Torpey and her daughters.

A FIELD OF COTTON IN TOWN.

J. A. Dennison Has Seen it and Can Tell You All About It.

"Did you ever see cotton in the field?" inquired J. A. Dennison this morning. "No? Why I am astonished. Just go up on Pearl street and you can see acres of it. It is a fact, and it looks as natural as can be. You see, Bailey and the Howe Brothers had to spread out their cotton that got wet in Thursday's fire at the bat factory, and they scattered it out all over several acres of pasture land up there. Have a smoke."

KING'S CHANCE GOOD.

The Janesville Inspector Likely to Be Made Chief.

HE HAS STRONG ENDORSEMENT.

Senator Sawyer Heads His Paper, and Following the Oshkosh Man's Name Cause of Many National and State Dignitaries Both East and West.

The office of chief inspector for the postoffice department will be vacated on June 30 next by Major E. G. Rathbone, who has been promoted to the new office, created by the last congress, that of fourth assistant postmaster general. Some dozen or more candidates, from many states in the union, are already in the field for chief inspector, among whom is J. D. King, formerly of this city, who has been in the postal service, as we all know, from boyhood, commencing his official career away back in 1859, sweeping the floors and scrubbing the windows and "the handles of the big front doors" of the Janesville postoffice in the old Ogden block.

He served in the Janesville office until February, 1889, when he received the appointment of special agent of the postoffice department (since changed to postoffice inspector), and was assigned to duty in the Chicago division, which then embraced Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Indiana.

His work on Star Route Frauds, was in 1881 selected by the postmaster-general as one to investigate the star route frauds and spent nearly a year in traveling through the far west for that purpose, being eminently successful in his mission.

In the fall of 1883 he was placed in charge of the Omaha division which embraced Nebraska and Wyoming, and in April, 1885, was given charge of the Rocky Mountain division with headquarters at Denver. This division took in his old division of Nebraska and Wyoming, and also included Colorado, Idaho and New Mexico.

Sudden Shortage of Funds.

Inspector King had charge of this division until June, 1888, when he received a notice from the Hon. Don Dickinson, then postmaster-general, that owing to the appropriations his services would be dispensed with, that he had performed good and efficient work, and there was no cause for complaint, but the appropriation was too small to warrant his retention in the service. He went out on July 1, 1888, and a good local democrat was appointed at once to succeed him. How the appropriation that had "run out" was run in again so quickly, deponent sayeth not.

The inspector that succeeded him continued to draw his salary and per diem with the utmost regularity. When the present administration came into power, Mr. King was at once re-appointed postoffice inspector, and very soon thereafter was given charge of one of the most important divisions in the country, the Washington division, embracing the District of Columbia and the states of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina, with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Well Fitted for the New Place.

From his long and varied experience, in all quarters of the country, it would appear that no one could be better equipped to don the mantle and manipulate the reins of the office of Chief Postoffice Inspector, than he.

Mr. Wanamaker is a keen business man; alive to the best interests of the people and the post office department, and when he comes to scrutinize closely the merits, from all stand-points of the case, we believe he will name John Douglas King, of Janesville, Wisconsin, for his chief inspector.

If honesty and integrity, capacity, experience and energy are to be considered, we place them on sale at 311 cents a pair, that is $3.75 a dozen; sizes 8, 9, 10. Seeing them means buying half a dozen pairs or more. They are a bargain we do not have to offer every day. J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

ALL BUSY SETTING TOBACCO.

Lively Scenes on Many Rock County Farms This Week.

The present week will be a busy one with Rock county tobacco growers. A few have their tobacco ground prepared for planting, and those having plants strong enough for transplanting will be at work planting.

Others are at work putting their fields in readiness, and should the weather be favorable, the coming week will witness general planting throughout the tobacco district, especially among those growers raising the early maturing tobacco. So far, the season, while it has been cold and dry, has not been discouraging to growers. It is now believed that all danger on account of frost has passed, and the only thing to fear is drought.

Sales of seed laid reported by J. S. Gans' son, tobacco broker, New York for week ending June 1, 1891, are:

600 cases, crop of 1890, Wisconsin, Havana pt. 150 cases, crop of 1890, Wisconsin, Havana, at 65 to 12 cents.

FEW IN THE SCHOOLS

Attendance Much Reduced By Alarm Over Diphtheria.

DEATHS AND BURIALS OF THE DAY.

The Last of The Exposed Children in the Richter Family Passes Away—Others Quarantined in a Barn and Suffering For Care.

The attendance in the city schools to-day was hardly one-half of what it was a week ago, in consequence of the alarm over diphtheria. In the Fourth and Fifth ward schools and the High school the attendance was especially small.
